(From Monday Advertiser.)

Two home runs and a single that eventually spread into a circuit of the diamond were the features of the ten-inning ball game between the Chinese and the St. Louis nines yesterday afternoon at the Athletic Park. The Chinese won by a score of 5 to 3. Akana, for the Orientals, walked out a homer to the makai fence and completed the circuit in rapid fashion. Zerbe, for the Saints, put one over the leftfield fence and trotted around the bases.

Lai Tin also made the circuit, but he should have only got to first. Centerfield fumbled and booted the ball around till Lai Tin made the round on the error and the throw. He sent Hoon Ki in ahead of him, and what should have been merely a single developed into two runs. It was a costly error of Zerbe, and the home run he made did not atone for the mistake.

Hoon Ki hit a three-bagger during the game, and Akana, besides his home run, made three hits, one of which was a two-bagger. The big fellow did fine work yesterday and was given a hand every time he went to the plate to bat.

Neves' Home Run.
In the second game of the P. A. C. nine and the Anahis, a home run over leftfield fence was made by Neves in the third inning. With two men on bases, he lifted one over the fence. That gave the P. A. C. outfit a lead that the Anahis could not overcome, although, in the last half of the ninth, they made two runs and came within an ace of tying the score.

The finish of the second game was a sensational one, and for a while it looked as if the Anahis would at least even up the score and make extra innings necessary.

The Batteries.
Joy and Schuman formed the St. Louis battery, and Barney struck out twelve men. He gave passes to two, while Luck Yee, the opposing pitcher, walked one and fanned seven men. Hoon Ki caught Luck Yee, and he did good work.

The P. A. C. battery was Medeiros and La Mere, while the Japanese tried two pitchers, with Nishi catching. For the first two innings Yamashiro did the twirling for the Anahis, and then he was taken out and T. Moriyama substituted. Yamashiro walked three men and struck out none. Moriyama struck out five and did not issue a pass.

Chinese vs. Saints.
The first game started off with neither side scoring in the first innings. It was an exciting opening spasm, as the Chinese nearly made a run right at the beginning. Lai Tin was out at the plate, after an exciting bit of work. He had made first, stolen second, and when Hoon Ki was out at second Lai hit out for home at his top speed. He lifted by a fraction of a second to score.

The Saints went out in quick order in their half of the first, and the Chinese did nothing in their second, although they brought off a double steal.

Saints Score First.
The Saints were the first to score, and it was in their half of the second when Devine came in. Joy had gone, short to first. Devine reached first on a centerfield hit. Cowan scored Devine by a rightfield hit, and he went to second and himself on the throw. Jansen, who had made first on a hit to center, was put out at third when Devine scored. Peterson hit one into third's mitt, and the inning was over.

In the Chinese third there was something doing and two runs came across. Akana and Lai Tin were the scorers, and it happened this way: Kai Luke fanned. Hoon Ki got free transportation. Lai Tin was given a life when centerfield dropped the ball and Hoon Ki was put out at second. Akana came along with his homer to centerfield fence, and Lai Tin romped in ahead of him. Kuali died at first.

The Saints made one run through the agency of Zerbe, the first man up to bat in the third. He knocked one over the leftfield fence, at the same spot as all previous home runs have been made. The hit is not a long one, and many fans have remarked that there should be a ground rule giving only two bases for the hit.

Tied Score in Ninth.
There was no scoring in the sixth, seventh, eighth or first half of the ninth. However, in the second half of the ninth the Saints made one run and tied the score. Aylett, put in as a pinch hitter, went out, pitcher to first. Joy went the same route. Then Devine made first on a hit to centerfield. Jansen also reached first on a hit and Devine advanced to third, where he twisted his ankle in sliding. Zerbe took Devine's place as runner and came home on a passed ball. Cowan went out, short to first. One run, and the score tied with three runs each.

Chinese Win in Tenth.
In the extra frame the Chinese got going and made two runs. Kai Luke fanned. Hoon Ki landed out a three-bagger. Lai Tin singled, and as centerfield fumbled the ball and let it through to the fence, Lai continued on, and sending Hoon Ki ahead of him, made the circuit. Akana walked. Kuali made first and went out at second, while Akana continued to third. Cheung died at first, and that ended the scoring. Two notches, and the Chinese leading by that number of runs.

The Saints did nothing in their half of the tenth, and the game ended in a win for the Chinese by a score of 5 to 3.

P. A. C. vs. Anahis.

In the second game the P. A. C. team were the first to score. They registered three runs in their half of the third inning. Bushnell went out, second to first. M. Ornelas made first on a rightfield hit. La Mere reached first on second's error. Carroll died at first short to basemen, but Ornelas went to third in the meantime. Neves came up and hit the ball over the leftfield fence, scoring M. Ornelas, La Mere and himself. Three runs, and the Anahis looking worried.

Five to Nothing.

In the very next inning the Portuguese added two runs to their score. J. Ornelas reached first on a hit. Medeiros bunted and made first safely. Ornelas advancing to second. Soerzi hit one into first's hands. Bushnell made first, and J. Ornelas was out at third. M. Ornelas reached first on two errors, and Medeiros and Bushnell came home. Five to nothing, and the Anahis looking forlorn.

There was a fair-sized crowd in the bleachers and a sprinkling of fans in the grandstand. There was no great excitement except toward the end of the P. A. C.-Anahis game, when the Japanese appeared to have a chance of winning. The first two innings of the first game took half an hour to play. Captain Stayton and George Bruns umpired the two games. ## Y. W. C. A. Basketball Team Showed Wailuku How to Play the Game.

By defeating the Wailuku basketball team in the second game of their series played at the Alexander House Gymnasium at Wailuku Monday night, the Y. W. C. A. basketball team easily won the championship of the Islands. The game was a one-sided one for the Y. W. C. A. at the end was 57 to 29. The game was interesting from the spectators point of view. A large crowd attended and cheered for their favorite team. The Honolulu team was superior to the Valley Island one in all stages of the game.

Miss Cassidy went along as chaperon and sub-teacher for the Honolulu team, and she was delighted with the manner in which the girls conducted themselves. The girls have gained the admiration of the Maui people through the clean playing which they showed in the two games.

Some of the players were the guests of Mrs. Koppaka, and the rest were with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Guerrero. The girls were much pleased with the hospitality which was extended to them while staying in Wailuku.

Monday's game was called promptly at half-past eight o'clock with both teams well represented on the floor of the Alexander House Gymnasium. The Y. W. C. A. was the first to score and it was within three seconds after the ball was put in play. The Y. W. C. A. players displayed remarkable teamwork, and they kept it up until the end of the first half when the score stood 57 against Wailuku's 10.

In the second half, the Y. W. C. A. came back stronger than ever. They piled up a big score which the home team could not overcome. The best the Wailuku team could do was to score 19 to the Y. W. C. A. 50. The final score stood 57 to 29 in favor of the Y. W. C. A. This is the biggest score ever recorded in a championship game.

Honolulu Girls' Good Work.

Emilia Guerrero, captain and star forward of the visiting team, showed flashes of speed throughout the game, and her brilliant playing was admired by those present. She was ably assisted by Ellen Dwight, who distinguished herself by the accurate throwing, and she was loudly applauded after accomplishing each successful throw. Marie and Rosie Holt, who played center for the visiting team, were stars of the game. They deserved a lot of credit for their steady playing, and they also surprised their opponents.

A big surprise of the evening was the playing of the guards of the visiting team. They are Marie McVeigh and Louisa Akao. Both girls played a strong game at their respective positions, and their opponents felt an easy victim whenever the ball was thrown towards them. Marie McVeigh played a good game and she surprised the spectators. As to Louisa Akao, she is well known as the reliable guard of the team. She has been playing in that position for more than four years, and her experience counts a lot.

The lineups of both teams were as follows:
Y. W. C. A.—Emilia Guerrero (capt.), Ellen Dwight, forwards; Marie Holt, Rosie Holt, centers; Louisa Akao, Marie McVeigh, guards. Timekeeper, Abbie Mahoe; scorer, Samuel Kabaheva.

PNES SELLING FAR BELOW COST

Slump in Market Caused by Tariff Causes Much Hardship to Small Producers.

The price now being paid growers of pineapples by the canners is a live question. A number of the growers are protected by contracts and these are receiving the contract price. One of the forms of contract somewhat widely used is based on the assumption that fifty per cent a ton pineapples delivered to the factory goes into the cans. Thirty per cent of this goes into two and a half pound Extra Sliced; fifteen per cent standard two and a half pound; twenty per cent two pound extra; ten per cent two pound standard; twenty per cent two pound extra graded; and five per cent eight pound extra crushed.

At an average price of $130 per hundred dozen number one pineapples, or all fruit weighing over three pounds each would bring $137.50 per ton. Number two pineapples, or fruit weighing less than three pounds, would sell under this form of contract at $68.75 per ton.

Pines Have Been Low.
Canned pines have sold at less than an average of $150 per dozen during the last four months. With canned pines averaging $135 per hundred dozen, as was the condition of affairs sixty days ago, the contract provided for a purchase price varying $1.25 per ton for every difference of five cents in the average selling value of the canned pines. At $135 per dozen the price of number one pines becomes $10 per ton and number two $5.

These contracts were drawn and largely signed at a time when the packers were averaging over $175 per hundred dozen, and the prices to the growers were $20 and $10. It was not at that time believed that canned pines would ever sell for much less than this base price. On this average basis both the growers and the packers were satisfied, as both were making a fair profit on their investment of time, labor and cash.

Slump Caused by Tariff.
What happened to the pineapple business and to all lines of trade as soon as the Underwood Tariff Bill went into effect is a matter of history.

The canners had to close out their 1913 pack during hard times on a falling market. Pineapples were unsaleable because consumers from Maine to California were worrying about getting the cash to buy corned beef and cabbage. Luscious Hawaiian pines suddenly became a luxury only within reach of the predatory rich and thrifty souls with long purses.

The 1914 crop is about thirty per cent larger than the 1913 crop which was fully twenty-five per cent larger than the 1913. Those who planted for 1914 believe the market capable of indefinite expansion and many refused to enter into contracts with the canners, claiming that prices would be higher instead of lower.

Market Oversupplied.
Looking at the situation from the vantage point of "kind-right" there can be no gainsaying the fact that there are more pineapples offering than there is a market for. While ten dollars for number one fruit and five dollars for number two spells ruin for many of the small growers many of those who are unprotected by contracts are accepting any price they can get rather than allow their crops to rot in the fields. Fines have been sold during the last sixty days as low as five, six and seven dollars per ton, with the canners unwilling to purchase all offerings.

Would Encourage Small Growers.
Representatives of two of the larger packers stated to The Advertiser yesterday that they would like to buy all the pines offered and would like
